Chile Warms Up For Ike Buys Site; Plant Will Employ 1,400

Flies Across Lofty Andes To Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — President Eisenhower flew the Andean hump today to be greeted here by a large, cheering airport crowd in perfect 80-degree weather. Just before his arrival the government arrested four Communists for painting pro-Castro slogans along his route to the city.

Eisenhower's propeller-driven Columbine III airliner landed at the Santiago Airport at 11:56 a.m. (10:56 a.m. e.s.t.), four minutes ahead of schedule after a smooth two hour and 16 minute flight from the Argentine Andean resort city of San Carlos de Bariloche.

The U.S. Chief Executive stepped from his plane a few minutes later and was greeted by Chilean President Jorge Alessandri Rodriguez in a festive scene.

After the usual playing of the two national anthems and inspection of the honor guard, Eisenhower er was presented to Chilean dignitaries by Alessandri.

Wave Both Flags

The enthusiastic airport throng burst into applause and energetically waved small Chilean and American flags.

A few minutes later, the two presidents walked to Eisenhower's bubble-topped car for a triumphal parade through Santiago to the official residence of the U.S. ambassador.

Eisenhower, who left Argentine-U.S. relations at their highest point in this century when he departed Chile's neighbors to the east earlier this morning, had been preceded here by sharply-differing reactions.

Rightwingers regarded his visit as something of which Chile should be proud. The center regarded it as belated U.S. recognition of Chile's importance in the scheme of things. The Communists declared nothing of benefit would come of it for the people.

Pro-Cuban Signs

It was the Communists who took the most aggressive anti-Eisenhower tack. The five young Communists arrested before his arrival were picked up for painting pro-Cuban signs on walls of buildings which Eisenhower passed en route to the embassy. Using black and red paint, the Communists had painted slogans in English reading, "We Like Fidel" and "Cuban revolution."

Among those arrested was Manuel Chacon Silva, son of the national Communist director, Juan Chacon.

The President wound up his stay in Argentina at the mountain resort of Bariloche, where he appeared tired after a weekend of what was supposed to be a rest. Chile was the third of the four countries he is visiting during his 10-day Latin American tour. Brazil and Argentina were first, with Uruguay to follow the end of the Chilean phase.

Precisely at 10:40 a.m. (8:40 a.m. e.s.t.), Eisenhower, Secretary of State Christian Herter and other members of the presidential party took off from Bariloche Airport for the two hour and 20

Michael Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kelly, 801 Broad St. Bristol, is four , or depending upon how accurate you'd like to be, one year old today. Michael was born four years ago today at 8:04 a.m. and has a bona fide birthday every leap Day. He celebrates his birthday Feb. 28 in "off" years. (Courier-Times Photo)

Snow Cover Disappearing

More than 1.3 inches of snow fell over Lower Bucks County through the night. The weatherman predicted the white stuff would melt down to about .13 inches of water through the day.

Forecast for today and tomorrow is for fair and cold weather with high temperatures about 40 degrees, termed "substantially below normal" by the weatherman. Low temperature this morning was 23 degrees at 6:30 o'clock. The high temperature yesterday was 40 at about 4 p.m. The low tonight is predicted to hover between 20 and 25 degrees.

Most of the state experienced frigid winds and snowfall yesterday and today.

The Somerset area was buried under nine inches of snow, but highway crews working through the night, kept main roads, including the Pennsylvania Turnpike, open.

Bedroom Struggle

Fairless Hills Man Stabs Wife In Back

A Fairless Hills man, under treatment for a nervous breakdown, stabbed his wife in the back during a bedroom struggle late last night, police said.

Mrs. Dorothy Pottersnak, of 821 Edgemont Road, Fairless Hills, was taken to the Lower Bucks County Hospital by the Delaware Valley Rescue Squad.

Eleven stitches were required to close the wound in her back. She will return to the hospital today for x-rays and further tests, a hospital spokesman said. Her husband, Melvin Pottersnak, was committed to Bucks County Prison to await a further hearing by John Melvin, Falls Township Justice of the Peace, early this morning.

Aggravated Assault: He was being charged with aggravated assault and battery.

Mrs. Dorothy Pottersnak told police that her husband has been under the family physician's care. (Continued on Page 3 Col. 2)

14-Hour Wave Of Panic

Twp. Police Arrest Suspect In Shooting Of Terrace II Man

A Bristol Terrace II man was sitting quietly in a crowded tavern Saturday night when Bristol Township police arrested him.

But the casual arrest of Marvin Brown, 34, of 537 Court B, Terrace 2, brought a 14-hour wave of panic in Lower Bucks County to an end.

The panic started 8 a.m. Saturday when Brown allegedly fired a 12-gauge shotgun blast that wounded Wilmer Garry, 26, of Court C, Terrace 2.

Result Of Stabbing: According to police, the shooting was the result of an incident in which Brown was stabbed at 2 a.m. in a field by a man he said he could not see.

Sometime between 2 a.m. when Brown was stabbed, and 8 a.m. when the shooting happened, Brown apparently decided that Garry was his assailant.

The shotgun blast sent pellets flying at Garry that wounded him in the arms, legs and groin.

Police On Alert

Bristol Township police, who thought the shooting might result in a recreation of the Uniontown massacre in which a berserk man killed four persons earlier in the week, were put on the alert.

Atmosphere of Tension

News of the shooting spread fast and Bristol Terrace residents lived out Saturday in an atmosphere of tension and caution.

Area police were alerted and prepared to assist the township officers if necessary.

$45,000 Estate Willed By Former Sheriff

The will of former Bucks County Sheriff William L. Stackhouse, who died in Doylestown Feb. 6, disposes of an estate estimated at $20,000 personal property and $25,000 real estate in Hulmeville and Middletown Township.

Bequests are made to relatives and a trust fund is to be formed with the income to go to the widow, Cora B. Stackhouse. On her death the remaining estate is left to a son, Wardell.

A wave of false clues had the township police force working constantly. Police Chief John R. Stewart reports his men investigated about 50 false tips during the day. Police used unmarked cars in the alert.

Finally, the right tip came. It was about 9 o'clock. A Bristol Borough patrol car was stopped on Beaver St. in the borough.

Patrolmen John Tortu and George Howard were told that the gunman was in a bar on Beaver Dam Road in Bristol Terrace.

Police Radioed

Tortu and Howard radioed the township police immediately. Shortly before 10 p.m., Chief

Construction of the new Strick Trailer Company plant in Falls Township will probably start within two weeks.

This was revealed today as officials of the Strick firm, a division of Fruehauf Trailer Company, purchased a 114-acre plot of ground from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company along the main line of that railroad.

Bids for construction of the new $3,000,000 Strick plant, which will be financed by the Bucks County Industrial Development Corporation and leased to the Strick firm, will be opened Thursday.

The construction work will begin as soon as possible after the bids are awarded.

1,400 Employees

The firm is expected to employ 1,400 workers.

The sale of the 114-acre plot to Strick announced today climaxed more than a year of planning and negotiating. The Falls site was announced last summer.

Announcement of the sale was made late this morning at a meeting of officials of the Strick firm, PRR and the Bucks County Industrial Development Corporation in the office of E. E. Kinzel, head of the railroad's real estate department at PRR headquarters in Penn Center Plaza, Philadelphia.

Modern Plant

Sol Katz, Strick president, presented the payment check to the railroad. The Strick plant is designed to be the most modern in the transportation equipment industry.

Herbert Barnes, president, and Gordon Exley, 2nd, executive director, of the development corporation, were present at the meeting.

George M. Ewing Company drew the plans for the 310,000 square foot structure.

The 114-acre site was purchased by the Strick firm for an undisclosed amount from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

The new plant, one of the most fully automated in heavy industry, will have an annual payroll of $7,000,000.

Transportation Equipment

Katz said the company will use the plant mainly to manufacture the newer types of transportation equipment developed by Strick within the past two or three years.

An example of this new equipment is the Flexi-Van system of rail cars and containers used by the New York Central, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and other railroads to speed rail to highway interchange of pre-loaded freight.

Another and still newer development is the Strick-Trainer, a 20-foot container with removable running gear. Two Strick-Trainers can be coupled as a 40-foot unit for over-the-road hauling and then automatically uncoupled for local deliveries or for loading on railway cars without intermediate dock handling of freight.

These new developments, Katz

Fund Need For College Pupils Cited

A challenge to provide the means for financially handicapped students to develop their abilities to the fullest capacity was issued Saturday evening at the second annual banquet of Delhaas Foundation for Higher Education held at the Edgely Fire Company hall, Edgely.

Dr. Gloria Cammarota, assistant superintendent of Bucks County Schools, Edward Schwartz, personnel director of Owens-Illinois, Bristol, and Robert W. Ankeny, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Bucks County, placed the challenge before more than a 100 representatives of business, industry, the professions and the general public.

By Hard Work

Dr. Cammarota cited the growth of Bucks County in the past ten years and observed that public education is the backbone of community life and must be preserved by hard work.

"The important thing," the educator observed, "is not to get everyone through college, but to get those capable people through college or other institutions of higher learning whose families are unable to provide the financial help needed."

"Our main goal," she continued, "is to help all students develop to their fullest capacity, for the community and the world needs all skills to keep us strong."

Not Remain Complacent

Schwartz stated that "We can no longer remain complacent and remain strong. We must help our youth help us to remain strong among nations."

The industrial representative remarked that our nation was continually improving facilities for higher education, and that industry was doing its share to some extent in providing scholarships, but observed that "we must find the means to provide the funds for those who cannot otherwise go on to higher learning."

Ankeny, citing personal experiences in his remarks on the value of higher education to the field of commerce, stressed that the community was only able to progress on the strength of the persons trained to develop its potentials.

The three speakers commended

Royal Ballet On Agenda

Meg, Tony To Return To London Tomorrow

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret and her fiance Antony Armstrong-Jones changed their minds today and decided to remain at Windsor for another 24 hours.

The couple will return to London tomorrow, when Antony will move out of his bachelor quarters and into Buckingham Palace to begin making wedding plans. He and the princess will make their first public appearance tomorrow when they attend a gala performance of the royal ballet at Covent Garden.

Margaret and her fiance have been staying with Queen Mother Elizabeth at the Royal Lodge Windsor since their engagement was announced Friday.

They remained at Windsor today to handle the flood of congratulations which have poured in since their engagement became known.

Good Evening!

February 29 it is.

A bit tough on the fellow who has a birthday anniversary today. He celebrates and gets celebrated only once every four years.

Easy on the outlook for spring, however. March 1 tomorrow and it won't be too long until you start looking for the forsythia.

If the birds are good omens, we're in. Cardinals, woodpeckers, robins, mockingbirds, titmice, grackles all having themselves a ball.

Mr. Eisenhower beginning to show first weariness on his marathon South American tour and our suggestion is that he take it easy.

Maybe the trouble is they didn't spot enough golf courses along that itinerary. And, look, we're not being facetious. That's the way the President rests.

It's also the excuse a couple million Americans give their wives every time they get a hankering for the fairways.

Lower Bucks officials beginning to show some real irritation over State Highway Department callousness to our deteriorating highway situation, and maybe about time.

No county in Pennsylvania has received less attention from the Highway Department during the past eight years. What we need here is some real organized hollering.

Snow last night hard to believe after that perfectly beautiful Sunday, but that's the weatherman for you.

Maybe we can get through the first two weeks of March without a blizzard? If we do, start oiling up the lawnmower.

People are funny. There was a fellow who hadn't kissed his wife in ten years and then shot a friend who did.

A true music lover is the man who puts his ear to the keyhole when he hears a soprano in the shower.

Be careful when you drive.

Scout Drive To Launch First Phase

The first phase of the $360,000 Boy Scout Development Fund of Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be launched tomorrow night at a 7 o'clock kick-off dinner at the Warrington Golf and Country Club.

Guests at the dinner, given by the campaign Steering Committee, will be 100 volunteer workers in the Advance Gifts Division, and their wives.

Seek Pledges
After the meal and program, the workers will receive instructions and materials to seek pledges from corporations, foundations, banks, commercial concerns and individuals capable of pledging $360 or more during three years.

The second phase, Special Gifts, will be launched in two weeks when hundreds of volunteers will go after three-year pledges of $36 to $359.

The $360,000 campaign goal is the minimum sum needed to enlarge the camp facilities and operations of Bucks County Council, whose Cub, Scout and Explorer membership has tripled to 7,700 in the past ten years, the council noted.

Campaign General Chairman Herbert Barnes will be toastmaster at the banquet, where the program will include remarks by W. Atlee Burpee, III, Council president and George G. Gray, Council finance chairman and editor of the Courier-Times and Daily Intelligencer.

Eagle Scout Terry Starkey, of Levittown, will speak to the campaigners on "What Scouting Means to Me."

Three Districts
Barnes today announced the appointment of vice chairmen in three districts for the Special Gifts drive, completing the top-level organization for that part of the campaign.

Vice Chairman in Pennsbury District, assisting Chairman William Spencer Erwin, is Jules Sussman, manager of Lobel's Youth Center in the Levittown Shopping Center. Sussman, a former Boy Scout is vice president of the Levittown Businessmen's Association. He serves on the board of directors of the Levittown Jewish Center and is chairman of its Religious School Committee.

Sussman lives at 8 Silver Spruce Lane, Levittown. He is married and the father of two sons and a daughter.

In Playwick District, John N. Reynolds, of Lower Makefield Township, was appointed vice chairman. He will serve under Dr. Stanton S. Kelton, Jr., chairman. Reynolds, an electrical engineer for Crescent Inflated Wire and Cable Co., of Trenton, N.J., serves on the Board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian Church of Morrisville.

He has been chairman of the Cub Pack Committee and Troop Committee 10, of Lower Makefield and is associate advisor to Explorer Post 10. His son, Ned, 15, is an Explorer II, Post 10 and a Pennsbury High School student. Clyde R. Hutchcroft, of Eureka is vice chairman for Special Gifts in Lenape District, where Stephen B. Hazard is chairman. Hutchcroft is research manager for Keasbey and Mattison Co., of Ambler. He has served Scouting in various capacities 11 years and is now assistant to the activities chairman of Lenape District. A son, John H. Hutchcroft, 19, is an Eagle Scout who a few years ago represented Bucks County Council on a goodwill trip to Japan. Dean, another son, 17, was a Star Scout in Troop and Post 63.

A. C. Willemsen, managing director of Pomeroy's department store, Levittown, is chairman of the Special Gifts campaign.

Auto Victim Listed 'Fair'

A 70-year-old man who was struck by an automobile while trying to cross Route 13 Saturday night was listed in fair condition in Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, this morning. Bensalem Township Police said Bernhard Germanis of Philadelphia was crossing the highway at the Blue Hill Diner, when he was struck by a car being driven by Theodore J. Munchback, 42, 5811 Taft Ave., Cornwell Heights.

Germanis had just left a Bristol bound bus from Philadelphia when Munchback, traveling south on Route 13, hit him. Munchback told police that he did not see Germanis until his car hit him. Members of the Bucks County Rescue Squad moved the victim to Lower Bucks County Hospital. He was later moved to Presbyterian Hospital.

First arrivals at the scene of the accident believed the man to be dead. No charges have been filed yet, pending hearing.

Red Missile Base Rocked

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — A tremendous explosion believed to be that of a Soviet missile base blasted a Russian military area near the Finnish border on Feb. 2, reliable sources said today.

The sources, who cannot be identified publicly, said they had no information on the extent of the blast or what caused it but that it was not believed to be a nuclear explosion.

The explosion appeared to have taken place very close to the Soviet military installation at Alakurtti, just north of the Arctic Circle and only a short distance from the Finnish border.

The Russians took over a strip of Finnish border in that area after World War II and expanded an existing German airfield into a military complex.

According to police, Mrs. Pottersnak explained her husband had been acting strangely all day and she had given him tranquilizers prescribed by the doctor.

When they went to bed, he began talking, got out of bed, turned on the lights and tried to get into a bedroom gun cabinet.

Key Hidden
The women had hidden the key, and Pottersnak broke the glass of the door with a shoe. When his wife tried to stop him he turned to her with a four-inch blade hunting knife.

"I don't want to do this, but I have to," Mrs. Pottersnak told police he said.

She then tried to grab the knife and in the struggle her husband somehow got his arms behind her and stabbed her in the back.

Falls On Back
The stricken woman fell on her back onto the bed.

Pottersnak then ran to the telephone and called Falls Township police.

Slippery Highways Cause 4 Accidents In Falls Twp.

Six Injured In Series Of Crashes

Slippery, icy roads in Falls Township caused four accidents and sent six persons to Lower Bucks County Hospital with minor injuries this morning.

In one accident, Elwood Hardinger, 33, of 64 Pinewood Drive, Levittown, was treated for a whiplash and head injury.

His car was stopped for a school bus on Route 1, near the Hide-A-Way Hut, when it was struck in the rear by an auto traveling towards Philadelphia, driven by John Califf, 24, of 515 East Roseville Road, Lancaster.

Skidded On Ice
Califf told police he skidded on the ice.

Four persons were hurt in another accident.

Treated were Mrs. Shirley Griesbaum, 26, of 10 Ember Lane, Elderberry Pond, Levittown, bumps and bruises of the head, left arm, spine and right thumb; Miss Jeanette Bradberry, 22, of 12 Grove Lane, Greenbrook, Levittown, pain in right hip;

Harvey Powell, 60, Bristol Pike, RD 1, Morrisville, pain in the right knee; his wife, Mrs. Pauline Powell, 65, nose cuts, bruises of the right knee and a sore chest.

Mrs. Griesbaum told Falls Township police that she was driving toward Morrisville on Route 13 at about 7:45 this morning when her car skidded on the icy bridge over Penn Valley Road and went into a half-spin.

Her car jumped the dividing strip and hit Powell's car, traveling in the south-bound lane towards Bristol. The injured persons in these accidents were taken to the hospital by the Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad.

Mrs. Helen Chelsen, 47, of 9 Jonquil Lane, Junewood, Levittown, was treated for pains in the ribs and back and a stiff neck.

She was driving toward Morrisville on Route 13 and slowed down to avoid the Griesbaum-Powell mishap, when her car was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Mrs. Jane Hagen Craig, 24, of Farley Road, Eddington. Falls Township police took her to the hospital.

Mrs. Craig told police that she had skidded on the slippery road.

In an earlier accident, a car driven by Johnnie Ray Jones, 24, of Murphy, N.C., was struck in the rear by the auto of Thomas Yurkanin, 28, of 47 Kentucky Lane, Kenwood, Levittown.

Jones told police that a state cinder truck had pulled in front of him into a center lane. He stopped and his car was hit in the rear by Yurkanin's vehicle, he said.

Bauso Raids 3 Counties On Blue Laws

Elmer C. Bauso, Butch's Auction owner, continued his search for Blue Law violators yesterday and will seek 24 citations against alleged law breakers in Bucks, Montgomery and Philadelphia Counties.

In Bucks County, seven violations of the old Blue Law, that prohibits engaging in "worldly endeavor" on Sunday, were charged by Bauso.

These violations occurred, he said, at the Philadelphia and Delaware Valley Turnpike interchange, a Levittown real estate office, another real estate office on Route 1, a gas station on Route 1, Pennell and a gas station on Olds Blvd., Fairless Hills.

Bauso said that he made trips to other counties to show that the law is not being enforced in other parts of the state.

He observed four violations of the new portion of the Blue Law that forbids the sale of specific items on Sunday in two Howard Johnson Restaurants on the Turnpike in Montgomery County. Six violations of the old law in an adjoining gas station were also noted, Bauso reported.

At the Normandy Shopping Center, Roosevelt Blvd. and Conly Ave., Philadelphia, two miles from the city limits, Bauso stated that he saw seven violations of the new sections of the law.

The Bucks County complaints will be filed today with Leon H. Milnor, Newtown Justice of the Peace, Bauso said.

The market owner explained that Bernard DioJoseph, Montgomery County District Attorney, suggested that he file the complaints with Charles Gorman, a Justice of the Peace in that county.

Philadelphia County citations will be sought from a magistrate there tomorrow, Bauso stated.

It was only the first of many changes in store for the commoner who won the heart of the princess while no one was looking. He currently is negotiating the sale of his lucrative photography business. According to court circles, he also is expected to give up being a commoner, with a royal rank soon to be supplied by his future sister-in-law, the Queen.

The London press still was filled with questions about the romance and tentative answers.

Where will they honeymoon? Some papers guessed the United States.

Where will they live? According to the Sunday Express, a $200,000 mansion near Windsor Great Park was all picked out for them.

The couple were being kept from public view as a matter of policy, although they did attend church services together Sunday at the royal chapel in nearby Windsor.

2 More Arrested In 'Hooded' Thefts

Two more youths have been arrested by Bristol Township police on charges that they aided the "hooded shotgun bandits" in two burglaries.

Stephen Krupa, 18, of 155 Magnolia Drive, Levittown, has been released on $1,000 bail on charges of larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy.

Joseph W. Knisely, 17, of Silverbird Lane, Levittown, was committed to the Bucks County Prison, Doylestown, over the weekend on charges of burglary.

Provided Key
According to township police, Krupa provided the key that enabled thieves to walk into the Sun Ray Store at the Midway Shopping Center, Bristol Township, on Sept. 30.

Police said Krupa was a former Sun Ray employee. They said Knisely was in on the Sept. 30, 1959, burglary of Deon's Tap Room in Bristol Township.

Both Krupa and Knisely were arrested after Bristol and Falls Township police arrested three youths charged with three hold-ups and 15 burglaries and suspected of at least one more burglary.

Original Trio

The original trio arrested included Orville Champey, 23; William Corcoran, 15, and Norman Torkelsen, 18, all of Levittown.

They are charged with three Bristol Township hold-ups in which they purportedly wore masks made out of white sheets and brandished a shotgun, rifle and pistol.

The three youths are being held in the Bucks County Prison without bail.

Morals Offenses

Also implicated in the string of burglaries and charged with morals offenses is Frank I. Howard, 38, of 8 Bridge Lane, Levittown.

Rap Road Conditions

Four municipal managers yesterday criticized the State Highway Department for "allowing secondary roads in Lower Bucks County to deteriorate into a serious and hazardous state of disrepair."

Managers Ira Gates, Bristol Borough; Charles Melchior, Middletown Township; Robert Stewart, Morrisville Borough, and Robert S. Erwin, Falls Township, leveled the attack on the state officials at a recent meeting of the Municipal Manager's Association.

Gates declared the condition of a two-mile section of Green Lane between Route 13 and Wilson Ave. Bristol, was "horrible."

Ignored Pleas

The Bristol Borough official asserted that the state had ignored pleas from the borough to install adequate storm drainage on a one-mile extension of Route 13, between Beaver Dam and Bath Roads.

In Morrisville, Stewart said the state has chosen to do nothing about Bridge St. since 1924. He said other sections of state highway were a maze of holes.

Melchior repeated Middletown Township's plea for something to be done about Woodbourne Road, a narrow but heavily-traveled section of road that accounts for many of the township's automobile accidents.

Falls Township Manager Erwin asserted that the state is neglecting Old Route 13 so long that it will have to be completely rebuilt. He said the concrete road was rotted and broken.

Fuel Oil Truck Blazes

Fast action by Levittown Fire Company No. 2 brought a flaming fuel oil truck fire under control in less than ten minutes, Saturday.

The spectacular blaze broke out in the pump compartment of the truck which was pumping oil into the home of William T. Allison of 42 Rust Leaf Lane, Levittown. Cause of the fire was laid to gas cans and a wooden box stored in the pumping compartment.

Nearby residents were ordered from their homes as flames roared 20 to 30 feet in the air from the truck carrying 2,500 gallons of fuel oil. Firemen confined the fire to the rear section of the trailer and was extinguished in twenty minutes.

Damage to the truck, driven by Charles Davies, and owned by R. K. Miller Oil Company of Newton, was estimated at $1,000 by Chief Yoder.

Forty firemen from Levittown and Edgely responded to the alarm.

Race Riot Hits London

LONDON (UPI) — More than 2,000 persons, battled police and each other with fists and feet in downtown London Sunday in one of the worst outbreaks of racist rioting ever seen here.

A number of persons received minor injuries in the melee, and 50 were arrested. Nine of them are to appear in court today to answer charges of "insulting the police."

The fighting began when paraders headed by Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of Britain's pre-war Fascists, tried to break up an anti-segregationist mass meeting in Trafalgar Square.

The fighting raged through the center of the city to a point within a stone's throw of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's official residence before order could be restored.

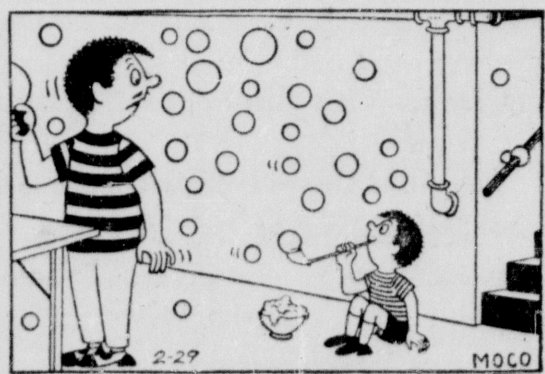

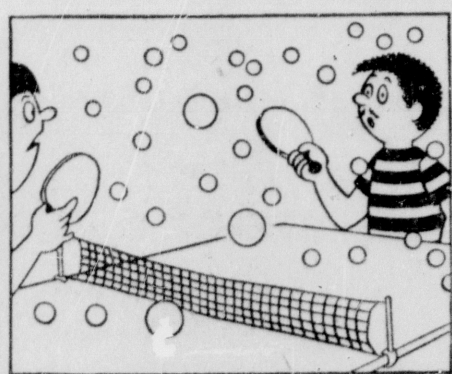

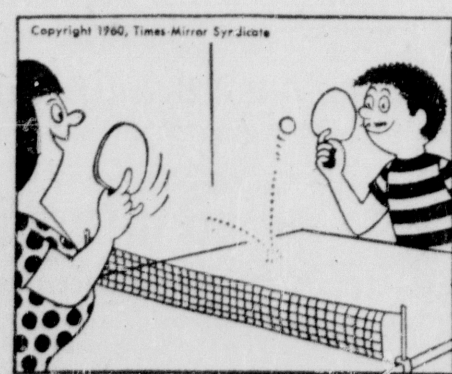

Langhorne Man Hurt As Car Flips 3 Times

A Langhorne man was critically injured last night when he was thrown from his small foreign car as it rolled over three times on the Langhorne - Yardley Road, Middletown Township.

The victim, Frank Hays, Jr., 51, of 452 West Maple Ave., was admitted to the Lower Bucks County Hospital about 8:30 last night with a concussion and suffering from internal injuries.

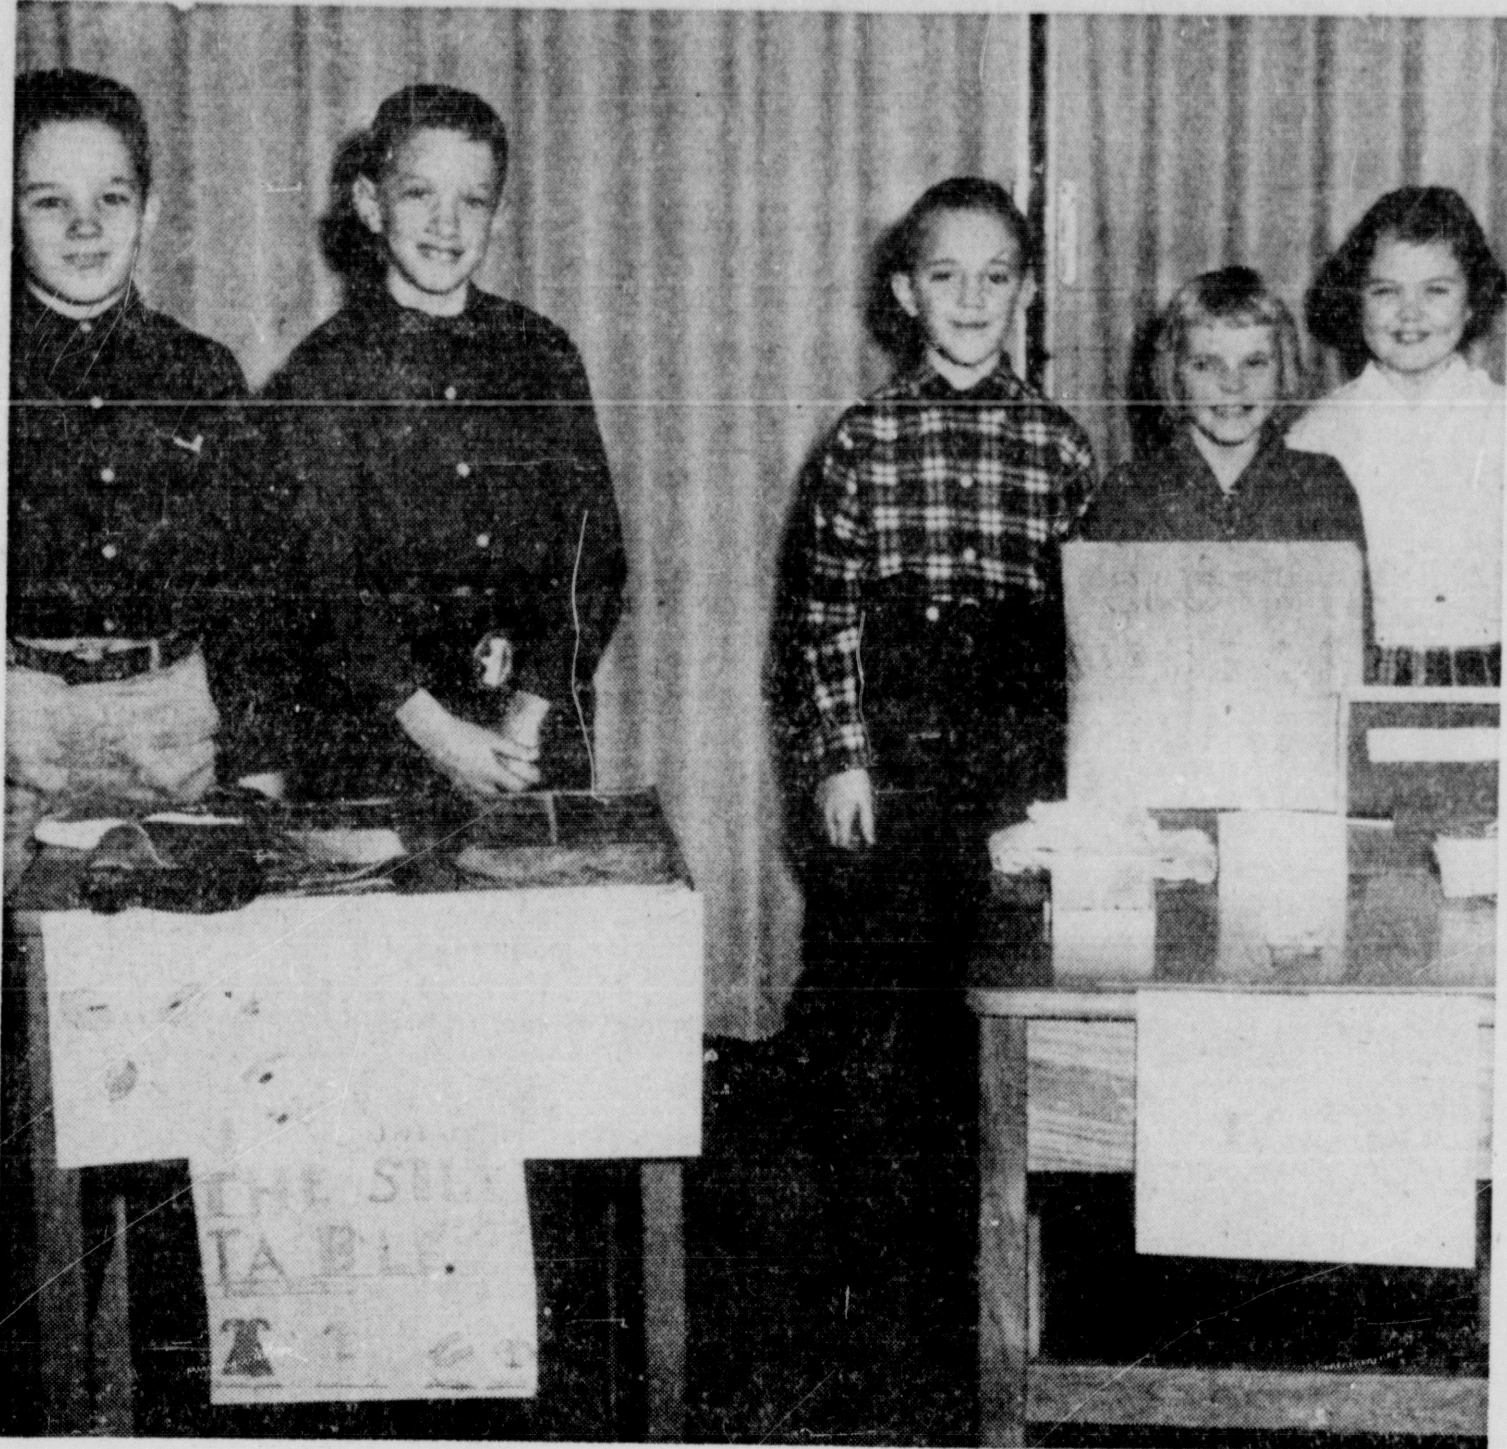

Patrolman George Haller, Middletown Township police, said Hays apparently lost control of his car, a 1958 Volkswagen, as he was driving north on the narrow highway.

Pennsbury High Students Hear China Day Speakers

The Nationalist Chinese government's continuing hope for revolution and its determination to reconquer the Chinese mainland with aid from rebels was expressed by Roland Liem, technical Communist government in Peking is the effective government of the Chinese people.

Peace Measures

Dr. Lutz also said the United States should recognize the Communist Chinese government for several reasons. Among these reasons were that the world cannot have effective peace measures of any sort without having China take part in them. She said it is futile to ignore a country that contains about one fourth of the world's population.

Another reason to grant recognition to the Peking government is that the Communists will continue to make trouble until recognition is granted and that continued frustration could lead to further aggression on its part, Dr. Lutz said.

Reconquer Mainland

Liem expressed confidence in Chiang Kai Shek's strength and ability to reconquer the mainland of China should a Hungary-type rebellion occur.

Liem said that Nationalist China would expect the United States to aid in supplying its army in any invasion of the mainland, but that this would not involve the U. S. in a shooting war with the Communists.

Liem also said that his government on Formosa was stronger and has more popular backing than at any time in the past. He said that the government had been rid of corruption by new, young and vigorous officials.

Liem said the people of China are looking forward to the day when the Formosan army of liberation re-enters the mainland. He recounted some of the recent extreme measures used by the Communists in their search for stability and increased production.

Extreme Measures

These extreme measures include, Liem said, the forcing of children into communes against their will; separation of man and wife in these communes with 30 minutes every six weeks allowed for visiting each other; and forced labor.

Also participating in the program were students Mary Ruesch, Orv Pierson and Sam Preston.

Ex-Convict Kills Two

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (UPI)—A 21-year-old ex-convict fatally wounded his grandfather and uncle with a sawed-off shotgun Sunday, then set out to gun down anybody who confronted him before surrendering to authorities.

Wayne (Pappy) Brown, released from prison last Thursday after serving a month's sentence for molesting girls, walked into the State Police barracks at Mahanoy City and gave himself up.

I had a feeling I wanted to kill someone," the suspect told state troopers.

Brown later added that "they kept talking about me and I wanted to get even."

William Keuch, chief of the Schuylkill County detectives, said the crazed gunman stalked out of his home in quest of other victims after shooting his grandfather, Frank Brown, 73, and his uncle, John Brown, 49, both at close range.

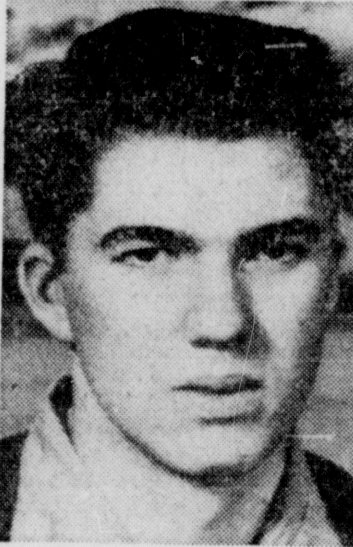

Keuch said Brown admitted he wanted to kill his father and his father's girl friend but he got so cold walking in sub-freezing temperatures that he decided to surrender.

"If the police had come, I would have shot it out with them. I would have shot the neighbors. I would have shot anybody I seen coming up the railroad tracks," he was quoted as saying.

Seen a hospital bill lately?

Mr. & Mrs. William Hopkins have—

saved them

$2,496.60

and Blue Shield

$1,050.00 more

"THE WAY OUR LUCK has run in the last 5 years, the most valuable thing we own is our Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership card," says William Hopkins, 4427 Clarissa St., Germantown. "Since 1955, I've had three major operations. I'd be more than $3,000 in debt now if Blue Cross-Blue Shield hadn't come to the rescue."

"Mrs. Hopkins' hospital and doctor bills would have set us back another $600. My first week in the hospital alone amounted to more than my entire year's premiums. What a real help Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection is!"

MR. HOPKINS KNOWS that when he needs hospitalization again, his Blue Cross and Blue Shield will be ready and waiting to serve him. For these effective, unique Plans never cancel a subscriber's contract so long as the premium is paid—not even in case of chronic or repeated illness, which can strike anyone.

Nor does Blue Cross pay just a fixed amount of cash. It's a service contract, providing the actual hospital care and service subscribers need. The test of good health insurance is: How fully does it do the job? Ask the Hopkins!
